Day One: 11 August 2015, James Cook University, Townsville

Days Two & Three: 12-13 August 2015, Rydges Southbank, Townsville

The sixth biennial LIMECONNECTION will be held in Townsville from 11-13 August 2015.

LIMECONNECTION VI: Knowledge Systems, Social Justice and Racism in Health Professional Education will build on evidence based presentations from previous LIMECONNECTION conferences and capture new initiatives, share successful methods and workshop visions for the future.

The conference theme encourages strengths based presentations relating to Indigenous health teaching and learning, curriculum development and research in health professional education, as well as models for community engagement and the recruitment and graduation of Indigenous students.

LIMECONNECTION provides an opportunity for:

- Collaboration, information sharing and networking amongst peers;
- Professional development and capacity-building;
- Linking with community, colleges and those from all health disciplines;
- Discussion and critique of current practices; and
- Exploration of emerging tools and techniques to drive improvement in outcomes for Indigenous health.

The conference also hosts the LIMELight Awards that acknowledge and celebrate the many current successes in the field.

Keynote speakers will include experts in Indigenous health and medical education from Australia, Aotearoa/New Zealand, Hawai'i and Canada. The target audience includes Indigenous and non-Indigenous health professional educators, health practitioners, policy makers, students and community members.

LIMECONNECTION VI is hosted by James Cook University and is held under the auspices of Medical Deans Australia and New Zealand, the Australian Indigenous Doctors' Association (AIDA) and Te Ohu Rata O Aotearoa (Te ORA) - Māori Medical Practitioners Association.

The LIMECONNECTION is an outcome of the LIME Network Project, which is supported by financial assistance from the Australian Government Department of Health.
